New Airplane Endurance Record Seems Assured Today

ST. LOUIS ROBIN REMAINS ALOFT; GOAL IN SIGHT

BULLETIN

Lambert Field, St. Louis, July 23. — Within less than three hours of equalling the world's record for sustained flight the "St. Louis Robin" entered its 246th hour in the air at 12:47 p. m. today.

"All well" is the latest message received from Dale "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, the pilots.

Lambert Field, St. Louis, July 23. —Not since a fair-haired, long-limbed youth named Lindbergh carried the city's name across the world in letters painted a foot and a half high on history's most famous billboard, the side of the Ryan monoplane known as the 'Spirit of St. Louis," has St. Louis been looking so eagerly skyward as it was this morning while waiting for a new world's endurance record to be set.

Seemingly aware of this tremendous interest, and bubbling over with the high good humor which has carried them so close to the world record of 246 hours and 43 minutes, Dale "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, in another monoplane, the 'St. Louis Robin" at 7:17 this morning rode confidently into their eleventh day and 241st hour in the air, not quite seven hours from the old record and eight hours from setting a new one.

To Continue Test

But Jackson and O'Brine, with the will-o'-the-wisp fame dancing luringly before their whirring propellor blades, apparently are not going to be content to stop after setting a new record. One of their most recent notes read "Our endurance flight begins Tuesday afternoon," and it is the general opinion here that the "St. Louis Robin" will continue on to the 300 hour mark at least.

Arrangements have been made for the pilots to take their doughty "St. Louis Robin" above the St. Louis business district at 2:01 when the old record will be equalled. Salvos of whistle blasts, shrieking sirens and the cheers of thousands looking skyward in the downtown district will signal the monoplane's victory.

Houston, Tex., July 23.—The endurance plane "Billion Dollar City," passed its 150th hour in the air at 7:49:30 o'clock this morning after passing a night which brought a momentary threat of tragedy.

Open New Air Service

Boston today was celebrating the inauguration of the first entirely over-water air service for passengers. Two flying boats owned by the Airvia Transportation company, the "Lewis A. Yancey," and the "Roger Q. Williams," opened the service with flights from New York Yesterday.

At Mitchell Field, N. Y., war department officials were in receipt of a telegram from Captain Ross G. Hoyt explaining that water in his gas supply was responsible for the army flyer's forced landing near Varmount, B. C., on Sunday on his attempt to set a record for a round trip between New York and Nome, Alaska.

From France, International News Service cables brought the word that a powerful lighthouse to help trans-Atlantic flyers find their way when they approach the European coast line will soon be erected on a hill near Locronan, on the coast of Brittany.

At Roosevelt Field, N. Y., the new Curtiss Condor 18-passenger plane of the Transcontinental Air Transport was put through a further series of successful tests.

In Chicago, the Illinois Central railroad announced the formation of a new air-rail service to link Chicago with Dallas, Tex.

THERE have been many "long counts", notably when a world's champion kept his crown, but the world's record count will take place when the United States starts to find out just how many people she has. UNUSUAL CRASH INJURES THREE

Driver Falls From Car Which Travels 150 Feet; Hits Tree

Sebring, July 23.—Three persons were injured in an unusual accident about 8 p. m. Monday, on the Beloit-Westville rd. one and one-half miles south of Beloit.

Edward Oliver, Lawrence Sharp, and Miss Doris Pidgeon, all of Sebring, were driving towards this city. Oliver, the driver, was traveling, witnesses report, about 40 miles an hour, when suddenly he disappeared from the driver's seat, and re-appeared lying at the side of the road.

The door of the automobile, a roadster, had opened suddenly, and Oliver fell to the pavement, sustaining a fractured shoulder. The machine continued down the road. Sharp and Miss Pidgeon apparently did not notice the disappearance of their driver, for neither made an attempt to stop the car.

The automobile continued at a fairly high rate of speed, dashed wildly off the road into a ditch, and finally ended its driverless tour, 150 feet away from the spot where Oliver had fallen out, when it crashed against a large oak tree.

The extent of Miss Pidgeon's injuries have not been ascertained, but Sharp sustained a broken leg.

OHIO MEN END LIVES WITH GUN

Ill Health, Employment Given As Reasons For Death of Two Residents

Columbus, O., July 23.—Without funds and with ill health slowly crumbling his life's shell, Moses J. Kennedy, 65-year-old bachelor, took a revolver and slew himself here yesterday.

In a room in a quiet residential section, the man had spent the past eight years, and in that same room he shot himself through the forehead.

His suicide act was superinduced by lack of employment.

New Philadelphia, O., July 23.—A 67-year-old man rose up from his sick bed during the absence of his wife, wandered to a nearby stream and then fired a revolver bullet into his own temple here yesterday. The man, Wilton A. Melhorn, died almost instantly. His wife had gone to a store

Mother, Father In Toils of Dry Law

Marysville, O., July 23.—Leonard Armstrong, of this city is to be tried here today for his third offense against the liquor laws.

Two convictions have been returned against Decima Armstrong, his wife, and both cases have been carried to the supreme court.

But the irony of this law-violating family—is the son. He recently won a prize in local schools for an oration on the enforcement of the laws of the eighteenth amendment.

Forest Fire Rages

Alturas, Cal., July 23.—A forest fire which has already burned a $100,000 mill and 5,000 acres of valuable timber was raging out of control, 30 miles from here, today.

Sheriff Finds Mash, Now Hunts Owner

Lisbon, July 23.—The mash was working, and four new 15-gallon kegs had been delivered for a new run of liquor, but alas, there is nothing doing now, according to Sheriff W. J. Barlow who perked his nose in the air as he drove through California Hollow in Liverpool township and through a section of land owned by the Bloomfield Land company, got a scent and then started to hunt for "the spot."

In addition he located a large quantity of gasoline and a gasoline stove, but no still was found.

There was 100 gallons of mash dumped. The gasoline was saved from the wreckage. New kegs and mash barrels are no more.

"Who's the owner?" Barlow was asked.

"That's what I'd like to know," he came back.

SNOOK MURDER TRIAL STARTS ON WEDNESDAY

Preparations Complete for Hearing Evidence In Co-ed's Death

Columbus, O., July 23.—On the eve of the trial of Dr. James H. Snook for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, 24-year-old Ohio State university co-ed, there was every indication today that the scholarly professor's defense will be insanity of the "uncontrollable impulse" form.

The 49-year-old deposed college professor is expected to contend that he beat the girl to death and slashed her throat while in the throes of an uncontrollable impulse which he does not understand—even today.

Trial On Wednesday

Dr. Snook goes on trial tomorrow before Judge Henry L. Scarlett in criminal court, less than six weeks after the murder was committed.

Preparations reminiscent of such famous trials as the Hall-Mills case at Somerville, N. J., the Remus trial at Cincinnati and the Snyder-Gray trial at Long Island City were being made at the courthouse this morning. A dozen or more telegraph and telephone wires were strung into the courtroom anteroom and seats were marked off for 33 correspondents from all parts of the state and country.

The ever-recurring report that a sensation may be sprung at the trial of Snook to the effect that a third party witnessed the crime was knocked in the head today when counsel for the defense stated that no credence is given to the rumor of an "accomplice."

"I am satisfied that Dr. Snook had no accomplice," said E. O. Ricketts, one of the defendant's attorneys. "I have dismissed that possibility from my mind after a long talk with Dr. Snook."

"Shielding Someone?"

This procedure, if adhered to, will dispose of the theory that Snook, in confessing the crime, did not tell the whole story and that he was "shielding someone."

Defense attorneys insist that no "new motive" defense will be submitted at the trial. They assert that the defense will be made "as simple as posible." It is expected that the defense will hinge around a hairline distinction between "legal insanity" and "medical insanity."

The prosecution, meanwhile, went ahead with its plans. Prosecuting Attorney John J. Chester, Jr., has called 35 witnesses to report at the courthouse on Friday. It is likely that by that day the jury will have been selected and the evidence begun.

Brick's body was found, about a half mile from the home of his brother, lying on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad tracks.

INGALLS URGES SALEM LOOK TOWARDS FUTURE IN NEEDS OF AVIATION

Assistant Secretary of Navy, In Charge of Aviation, Tells of Economic Progress of America's Flying Industry

Hon. David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy, in charge of aviation, urged the city of Salem to take immediate steps toward the development of an airport site, in a speech to members of Salem, Columbiana, and Wellsville civic organizations, under the auspices of the Salem Rotary club, at the Memorial building, Monday night.

The development of aviation, Ingalls stated, was now reaching an epochal peak, but its success was wholly dependent on the location of airports in cities throughout Ohio and other American states, similar to size and location of Salem.

"I sincerely hope, for the betterment of the city of Salem, that progress is started as soon as possible towards making this city an airport," Ingalls, one of the country's outstanding authorities on the subject of aviation stated.

"An airport will create greater interest in air travel, and with ports springing up everywhere, in communities smaller than Salem in size and population, the action must come soon.

"People throughout America have not, as yet realized the importance of airports to the development of aviation, but progressive Americanism is gradually resulting in the materialization of great interest.

"The cost may be considered enormous, but the city will be compensated in the future."

The historical development of air travel was traced, in financial statements, contrasting total cost of aviation equipment produced in the country in 1928, and that estimated for the present year. Ohio, he illustrated, produced planes and other equipment, estimated at $4,000,000 last year, while $19,000,000, or an approximate increase of almost five times the 1928 total will be the result of this year's production.

He showed how American taxpayers were receiving compensation from the government, for the taxes collected each year, and which are apportioned to the U. S. department, by citing examples of the progress being made by the governmental departments in all lines of air warfare, as any other nation, while in commercial travel, at present, America has more than 7,000 planes, operating from public and private fields, while the entire, total of commercial and privately owned planes of other countries does not exceed 3,000.

"Aviation does not replace any other branch of American business," he added. "There is a distinct place for it, and all lines of travel are cooperating in almost perfect harmony, and aid commercializing on the adoption of aviation, in conjunction with their present methods of transportation."

Ingalls, during the World War, was the only naval aviation ace, having the distinction of bringing down five enemy planes and three balloons, the latter being considered one of the war's most difficult accomplishments.

He was awarded medals for distinguished service by United States

COUNTY CASE IN SUPREME COURT

East Palestine Company Seeks Reversal Of Decision

Seeking reversal of a decree by the Columbiana county appellate court, favoring the county board of commissioners the Madden Lumber & Construction Co, through its attorney, H. L. McCarthy, of Salem, today filed an appeal in the Ohio supreme court, in Columbus.

The suit concerns a contract for the construction of a bridge over Peace Valley lake,, in Unity township. The East Palestine company awarded the contract to build the bridge, completed the project at a savings of $752, which the county withheld.

The matter was referred to the common pleas court, which rendered a verdict favoring the plaintiffs, but the court of appeals reversed this decision.

The legal argument is based entirely on whether the contract entered into by the contractors was a lump sum or unit contract.

Pope Pius Makes Ready For Leaving Vatican Confines

Vatican City, July 23.—Visitors to Rome to witness the historic event in St. Peter's square on Thursday when Pope Pius XI will make his exit from the Vatican began arriving in large numbers today. Among the influx from all parts of Europe are many American tourists.

Pope Pius XI will be the first pontiff to leave the confines of the Vatican since 1870, thus breaking the self imposed papal exile of nearly 60 years duration.

The pope will be carried through the square on a podium, an open sedan chair.

Following the procession, which will begin at 6:30 o'clock, Italian time, the pontiff will conduct the religious rites at a temporary altar, which will stand upon the steps of St. Peter's. There the pontiff will extend his blessing to the 5,000 visiting Catholic seminary students and to the whole world.

That Pope Pius XI intends to visit Monte Cassino later in the summer is indicated by an incident that was revealed today. It was learned that the pontiff, in receiving a small Monte Cassino boy in audience on Saturday, personally promised the lad he would "see him again" at the Monte Cassino monastery during the late summer. Monks at the monastery do not deny the story.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF MAN STARTED

Fear Foul Play In Disappearance Of Ohio Man; To Dig Under Restaurant

Kenton, O., July 23.—Preparations went forward today to dig up the basement of a restaurant here in search for the body of a man, who disappeared in February, 1927.

The action was authorized by the Hardin county grand jury.

Jim Pizell, onion grower, who resided west of this city, disappeared from the streets here more than two years ago when he had several hundred dollars in his pocket.

He was in debt at the time, and he was believed to have left the city.

Circulation of rumors recently that Pizell was last seen in the vicinity of the restaurant and that he may have been the victim of foul play, led to the grand jury's action.

SHERIFF BREAKS ROAD BARRIER

Barlow Removes Chains Which Halt Work On Highway

Lisbon, July 23.—Chains and other barriers that had been placed across the right of way of the new Calcutta section of the East Liverpool-East Palestine road have been removed by Sheriff W. J. Barlow under a court order, issued when the court refused to grant an injunction against the county commissioners and Lewis & Copeland, contractors, from proceeding with the improvement.

"There is no law giving authority to grant such an order," the court announced.

When the sheriff went to the Chamberlain property and told the occupants to remove a chain across the right of way on that property, he was informed that none in the house would remove the chain.

The sheriff then cut a wire to which the chain was attached, and also removed other barriers. Contractors were told to proceed with the grading at once, and this was commenced Monday afternoon.

The last concrete has been poured on the north St. Clair township section of this road. The highway will probably be opened to traffic within about 18 days. About six weeks will be required to construct the Calcutta section of this road.

Sheep Killed By Dogs, Warden Says

PATH NOW OPEN FOR MEDIATION, DIPLOMATS SAY

Stimson Proceeds Slowly In Effort To Avert Warfare

TROOP MOVEMENTS REPORTED AS FEW

Both Nations Hold Action Will Be Defensive Move Only

Washington, July 23. — The way was believed open today for a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Russian dispute over the seizure by the Chinese of the Chinese eastern railway, either through direct negotiation between the disputants, or mediation of powers.

With assurances received by Secretary of State Stimson from Chinese Minister C. C. Wu as to China and from the French and Japanese ambassadors as to Russia that neither country intended to go to war unless in self defense, the outlook for peace in the Orient appeared considerably brighter according to the State Department view.

The broadest field for negotiation will be left open for the Chinese and Soviet Russian diplomats to occupy, and there probably will be no direct suggestion as to the form it shall take by the four signatories to the Pacific treaty of 1921—France, Great Britain, Japan, and the United States—for the time being, Stimson intimated. He said the dispute might be settled directly by the two countries involved by mediation of the other powers, or by conciliation and arbitration.

Stimson Moves Slowly

Despite the optimistic view which State department officials take of the situation today, Stimson is moving slowly for fear of upsetting the progress made thus far.

Moscow, July 23.—Soviet Russia today is engaged in the greatest diplomatic battle in the history of the Red republic.

The Soviets are anxious to avoid war against China, it was emphasized in official quarters despite the government's rejection of France's mediation offer.

The Moscow government is now attempting to gain through diplomacy all the fruits that might have been acquired through the use of arms.

But the Soviet union is waging a struggle against severe odds as it has no European or Asiatic allies to give it diplomatic support. America has never recognized the Mos-

Final Link In Murder of Patrolmen Obtained In Cleveland When Two Eye-Witnesses Appear

Moranz was killed during an argument with two men, one of whom wrested Moranz' gun from him and fired three shots into the body of the policeman.

The slayer was located in Charlotte, N. C., through an underworld tip. He was returned here after having confessed to the crime. Morgan is held by Cleveland authorities on a first degree murder charge.

NEED SUPERVISION

An alarming increase in the number of motor bus accidents has stressed the need for federal regulatory supervision over a system of transportation that is growing by leaps and bounds. The time, it would seem, is at hand when there should be legislation of national character to regulate this method of transportation.

Instances have come to light where bus concerns operating over public highways, do so with defective machines which endanger not only the passengers, but the pedestrian and other motorists and all other users of the highway.

Wildcatters also have come upon the scene, and have worked injury to responsible bus lines because they are financially irresponsible and indulge in reprehensible practices.

State regulation in most instances where there has been any regulation at all, has been attempted over motor busses and motor trucks engaged in interstate commerce, and interstate operators have been required to conform with the laws and regulations of the states in and through which they travel.

But the United States supreme court on March 2, 1926, held that states could not restrict operations of motor busses or motor trucks in interstate commerce where such regulation was not primarily with a view to safety or to conservation of highways. And since this decision was handed down no supervision or regulation has been exercised over interstate commerce by busses or trucks not used in terminal service in connection with rail transportation.

Now, considering the rapidly increasing importance of the motor transport, it would seem necessary that Congress enact some kind of regulatory legislation which will at once cover all the states, and which will make this form of communication less hazardous for the public.

Bus drivers should be subjected to a most searching examination as to their physical ability to withstand the rigors of their work, and as to their mental ability to think fast and accurately in time of emergency. The public relies upon the bus operator for his personal safety, just as the train rider relies upon the engineer and the conductor for his safety. If the bus driver is remiss in his duty, is a speeder, is careless and doesn't regard the safety of his passengers as something over which he is responsible, then that man is no fit person to handle such a vehicle.

There are many items which should come before congress for consideration when such regulatory legislation is under consideration. And now is the time for the several states and communities to see to it that their representatives at Washington take serious cognizance of the bus transportation system.

RUSSO-CHINESE SITUATION

Any attempt at this distance to clarify the Russo-Chinese situation so that readers may understand what is going on over there, must of necessity be based upon rumor rather than fact. While there has been no attempt, so far as can be ascertained, to muzzle the press along the Manchurian border, or elsewhere in Russia or China, the facts which are coming through are few and far between, and somewhat obscured behind propaganda emanating from both the Russian and the Chinese headquarters.

The dispute is over the Chinese Eastern railway. This is one of the most vital connecting links between eastern Russia and eastern China. It is the outlet to the sea from Russia, and it is a line of communication that Russia must have—or over which Russia must be permitted to move its commodities—if Russia is to maintain communications with the outer world to the east.

There is no question of the gravity of the Manchurian situation. And from this distance, and in view of what Russia has been doing in the quite recent past—and in the absence of anything to the contrary—it appears that Russia is the aggressor in the dispute with China, and for the very simple reason that China does not want its Manchurian holdings snatched away to increase the border safety of the Soviet republic.

World powers, however, have interested themselves in the situation, and with Secretary Stimson calling upon both China and Russia, as signatories to the Kellogg anti-war pact, to submit their differences to arbitration, it is quite likely the war, so-called, will prove a dud and the differences of opinion will be ironed out around a conference table.

This is the first time that the Washington government has asked belligerent nations which have signed the Kellogg pact to compose their disputes by arbitration, rather than force of arms. It is the first time the occasion has arisen for so doing.

The Kellogg pact does not provide the machinery for arbitration, but inasmuch as the Washington government initiated the pact, it was held by Secretary Stimson to be this government's first move in attempting conciliatory measures between Russia and China, inasmuch as they were among the first of the greater powers of the far east to recognize the necessity of such a treaty.

If the Kellogg anti-war pact brings about a conference which ends the Russo-Chinese dispute without more bloodshed, then there is every reason to believe that Secretary Kellogg was on the right track when he brought out the agreement which was to arbitrate disputes rather than settling them with guns and swords.

What Others Say

AVIATION'S SILLY SIDE

Aviation, too it seems must have its silly side. As though the country weren't already sufficiently absurd with its marathon dances, its flagpole sitters and its hog calling contests, we now have a wave of endurance flying upon us.

If the army air corps had known what the flight of the "Question Mark" would lead to, it surely would never have done it. Since then there has been a regular hysteria of refueling endurance flights. Three have succeeded in beating the 151-hour mark of the army.

The optimists shout about the great lessons that have been learned from these flights. Lessons have been learned, it is true.

The "Question Mark," taught that rocker arms can not go ungreased for more than 150 hours. Hardly important, that.

The flight of Kelly and Robbins at Fort Worth taught that if a wooden propeller is bruised or nicked, it will eventually swell and warp, leading to vibration. Didn't everybody know that?

The recent flight of Newcomb and Mitchell—two splendid aviators—at Cleveland taught that when men fly through bad weather for a week they are more dead than alive when they get down. Just that; nothing more.

We save our admiration for such men as Bill McConnell, of Akron, who last winter, flew the night mail between Cleveland and Cincinnati for 34 straight nights after his fellow pilot on the line was killed; for Jimmy Doolittle, who risks his neck every day to help find a way for men to fly through fog, and for the unsung boys who carry their thousands of passengers over the airlines every month without a scratch.

More than a dozen endurance flight attempts have failed. Lives have been lost. Expensive planes crashed. Even those that succeeded took terrific toll of human energy. A 172-hour refueling endurance flight advances aviation about as much as a dance marathon adds to the beauty and dignity of the art of terpsichore—Columbus Citizen.

BLEEDING UNWISE IN TREATING BLACK EYE

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Did you ever have a black eye? If so, you know what a lot of "kidding" your friends gave you.

The tissues of eyelids and cheek are soft and very sensitive. They overlie a ridge of hard bone. This is the edge of the orbit, the cavity within which is contained the eyeball. The parts in this region are richly supplied with blood vessels.

All the conditions are favorable for trouble. A blow with the fist running against a door or other hard object, stooping over and striking the corner of a chair—any one of these accidents will pinch the skin and damage the delicate blood vessels.

The tissues are caught between the external object and the sharp ridge of bone. The blood vessel is crushed as it would be with pinchers. There is no wonder the thin wall is broken. When this happens the blood oozes into the soft tissues surrounding it.

An accident of this sort produces the same results we find in the skin anywhere else following a bruise. There is a "black and blue" spot. When this happens in the neighborhood of the eye we have what is commonly called a "black eye."

Doctors give this condition a big name—"ecchymosis of the lids." All this means is that there is a collection of blood in the connective tissues—the soft portions of the eyelids.

The length of time the discoloration will last depends on the amount of blood which has escaped from the damaged vessel. Ordinarily it requires from one to two weeks for absorption to take place. The black and blue stain may continue longer, perhaps for a month.

If you get a blow in the region of the eye it is well to apply cold water almost continuously for an hour or so. This retards the bleeding and reduces the quantity oozing onto the tissues. Diluted witch hazel may be used instead of plain water. Lead water and laudanum is a favorite household remedy for black eye.

When all danger of further bleeding has passed massage is helpful. You can see that this should not be applied at once, because it would break the clot and bring on renewed bleeding. But after a couple of days it may be begun. Apply a little cocoa butter or cold cream and gently manipulate the discolored part.

For cosmetic reasons, or to spare yourself ridicule you may paint the surface with some form of cosmetic. A stick of the grease paint used by actors may be employed to smear the surface and hide the discoloration.

It is unwise to cut the skin or to apply a leach. If the surface is broken in this way it may become infected and cause a lot of trouble.

A—Correct your diet by eating only simple foods not unduly rich in fats and starches. Add stewed fruits to your diet, graham and whole wheat bread. Take a tablespoonful of a refined mineral oil daily. Fresh green vegetables are essential.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, July 24
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

With the generally adverse fluctuations of the planetary movements for this day, it may be suggested that the conditions may be largely what they are made, by courage, perseverance and optimism. It would be well to postpone negotiations with large corporations, secret orders or industrial institutions until the judgment and insight are less distorted and more dependable. Guard against small losses and refrain from petty inharmonies and worries.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year beset with small annoyances, inharmonies and setbacks, unless they put up a brave front against these undermining obstacles by determined action and well-balanced judgment. Deal cautiously with all corporations and secret organizations or combines.

A child born on this day should be given an education of large scope with direction into the ways of principle and not expediency. Also courage, optimism and balanced judgments should be inculcated in order to offset certain visionary and distorted proclivities.

Trust thyself; every heart vibrates to that iron string.—Emerson.

Long Sleep Makes Baby Happy Again

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look and feel worlds better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this purely-vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations. Adv.

Ruling Of Commission To Have No Effect On Schmeling Fight

Boston Sailor Certain To Be In Title Battle

Walsh Predicts Action By Rules Body Will Mean Less Than Nothing

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, July 23.—Regardless of whether the New York Boxing Commission decides today to do something or nothing, which undoubtedly is the best thing it does best, the Schmeling-Sharkey fight will be announced within a week for an out-of-town locale, probably Chicago.

That's my story and you can go and sing the contralto accompaniment with Sweeney's boarder right out there where everybody can hear you.

The business is on like a shirt in public and everyone knows it, even the New York Boxing Commission, which is generally supposed to be under contract to know nothing all day long.

The Garden corporation, threatened with everything except a night in the workhouse unless it plays nine full innings of ball with the commission on the Schmeling suspension, has reached into the limbo of things almost forgotten and—up it comes with a joker. The latter is nothing more than the old my favorite known as the "dummy" promoter.

Repetition of History

History thus is about to play itself another encore. In 1926 the late Mr. Rickard found that he was as welcome as writ of mandamus, whatever that is, with his first Tunney-Dempsey fight and so he borrowed the name of a Philadelphia promoter, put on his fight there and split everything two ways—one way for each pocket. The next year, he chose Chicago as his site and George F. Getz as his "dummy" promoter. His choice was excellent in both respects. That is to say Chicago gave entire satisfaction and so did Mr. Getz.

Anyhow this was lese majesty in its most malignant form, yet if the commission ever did anything about the matter, it forgot to notify the Garden corporation. As a matter of fact, the commission went to both fights, if I recall the incident correctly. It probably went in a high dudgeon, but that is largely a matter of taste. Most people prefer to go in a taxicab.

In any case, a precedent was established and that's all this man they call Bill Carey needs. He may not know much about boxing but he knows that precedent is something that proves you are right even if you happen to be wrong.

Konjola Relieved Grateful Man of All Suffering After He Had Given Up All Hope

MR. HARVEY MEESE

"An attack of the flu left me in a very weak and run-down condition," said Mr. Harvey Meese, of Louisville, Ohio. "My stomach caused me a great deal of trouble. My food fermented after eating ,and quantities of gas would rise in my chest until it burned like fire. Rheumatism developed an dthen why whole body was wracked with pain. My nerves were affected, and this kept me awake most of the night.

"This new medicine, Konjola, made me feel like a new man. My upset stomach was soon corrected, and my digestion restored. Konjola also relieved rheumatism wonderfully, and ended all signs of nervousness. Now I enjoy sound sleep at night and wake up in the morning refreshed. I recommend Konjola as a great builder of health!"

Indians Hope To Climb To Third Place

Intersectional Clashes To Start Anew In Both Leagues Today

BY LES CONKLIN

New York, July 23.—A new set of intersectional engagements in the big leagues get under way in full blast today with the clashes between the Giants and the Cubs, Detroit and the Yankees, and Cleveland and the Athletics featuring the card.

With the dynasty of the Yankees apparently ended, the spurt of the Cleveland club is providing most of the fireworks in the American League. During their home stand just concluded the Indians won ten out of 17 games, including three out of five from the Yanks, and took fourth place away from Detroit.

The Indians, who finished seventh last year, are now hopeful of overtaking the third-place Browns. They boast a formidable hurling corps in Ferrell, Miller, Hudlin, Shaute Zinn and Miljus, and a quartet of sweet hitters in Fonseca, Falk, Morgan and Averill.

The millionaires associated with the club have been shipping currency by the bale in exchange for new talent and the splurge is beginning to bear fruit. Another load of high grade ivory is to be imported next year, when the team may be ranked as a bona-fide pennant contender.

In the only game played yesterday, the Pirates increased their lead over the Cubs to a game and a half by slaughtering the Brooklyns, 13 to 3. Sparky Adams led the parade with four hits, and in the fourth inning the Bucs hopped on Moore and Dudley for seven runs. Brame pitched for the winners and was never in danger.

cow government; diplomatic relations with England are suspended temporily, while Japan and Germany are holding aloof in the Far East clash of Sino-Russian interests

Harbin, Manchuria, July 23.—Chinese military activities were practically at a standstill in this district today, and government officials said there was no reason to expect a clash anywhere along the Chinese eastern railway in the immediate future.

Chinese Troops Move

Some Chinese troops were moving toward the railway from Taonan to the vicinity of Tsitsihar, midway between Harbin and the western border of Manchuria.

Harbin itself was outwardly peaceful, but under the surface the community was boiling with activity and rumors. Tension was especially acute in the Russian districts, where all business houses were closed. The white Russian employes sought refuge in Japanese hotels of the city, hoping thereby to obtain protection from Japanese troops in event of a surprise invasion by Soviet troops.

Information was telephoned from Pogranitchnaya, on the northeastern frontier, that Red airplanes are now flying far over Chinese territory on scouting excursions.

Smugglers Killed, Jailed In Fight With Border Patrolmen Near Mexican Boundary

El Paso, Tex., July 23.—At least three liquor smugglers are dead or wounded and five are in jail here today as the result of a gun battle between a score of smugglers and four border patrolmen at Cordova Island last night.

The patrolmen encountered the smugglers, in automobiles, after a day of waiting and watching the island through field glasses from several miles away. The smugglers were driven across the border into Mexico, carrying their dead or wounded. None of the patrolmen were wounded.

A truck containing 150 gallons of liquor and three automobiles were seized by patrolmen.

NEW LAWS ARE EFECTIVE TODAY

Liquor to Minors Draws More Severe Penalty Than Before

Columbus, O., July 23.—The Rose act, which provides drastic penalties for conviction on charges of giving or selling liquor to minors, will become a law at midnight.

The act, passed at the recent session of the Ohio state legislature, provides a fine of from $300 to $5,000 or a jail sentence of from one to five years in the penitentiary, or both.

Hitherto, the law had only specified a fine of from $10 to $100 or imprisonment from 10 to 30 days, or both.

Another bill, which effects the criminals of the state, also goes into effect at midnight. It is the Derr act, lowering the age limit for entrance to the Marysville state reformatory for women from 17 to 16 years, but permits only those convicted of felonies to be sent there.

Women, who are convicted of misdemeanors, and who are sentenced to serve jail terms, must, starting tomorrow, do their time in county or city jails.

How Schoolteacher Gained 18 Pounds and New Energy

"I am a public school instructor," writes Mr. Linus L. Clark, "and from my study I was convinced that Ironized Yeast was exactly what I needed to put me in shape. I took only two bottles and gained 18 lbs. More than that, Ironized Yeast brought more energy, greater endurance and an improved complexion."

You can believe letters like this. Thousands who were doubtful at first write they gained 5 to 20 pounds often in 3 weeks. "Skinny" limbs changed to graceful roundness. Skin clears. Tired feeling goes.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective — for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets in a handy bottle. Safe for everybody. Never cause gas or bloating, no harmful drugs.

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If after this generous trial you are not delighted, money back from druggist or manufacturer.

STOMACH, LIVER AND GALL TROUBLES SOON VANISH

Five Years Systemic Disorders Conquered By Owa-Ton-Na

MRS. T. M. NASH

Mrs. T. M. Nash, Georgetown Rd., Beaver, Pennsylvania, says: "For the past five years, I have been in a run down condition. It just seems as though everything had gone wrong, stomach, liver and kidney disorders. I was told I had gall bladder trouble, yet nothing that I did seemed to give me any relief. Food fermented and caused gas. Why, at times I had no appetite at all. Headaches and backaches made life miserable. Sometimes I just felt as though I couldn't go on.

"The first bottle of Owa-Ton-Na showed me I had found the right remedy. My bowels started to function normally, my stomach acted better, food digested properly and my appetite came back. Now I can eat anything I want without distress and food certainly tastes good. My back doesn't cause me any more trouble, my kidneys act normally, I can now go to bed and sleep all night without getting up to relieve bladder irritation. Words can hardly express the thanks I feel for Owa-Ton-Na. I wish I could personally tell every sufferer about the benefits I received from this fine old Indian remedy.

You, too, may find in Owa-Ton-Na just the remedy you need. Why not try it for yourself. One bottle is usually sufficient to prove its merits to you. Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at Floding's, Bolger & French and J. H. Lease drug stores.—Adv.

The Smiths and the Browns are setting the Pace
THE family that endeavors to keep up with other families without regard to its financial condition soon comes to grief. Every family, every person, should set a financial pace that permits of putting into the bank at least 10% of income.
Such a family may watch the Smiths and Browns travel gayly the detour of extravagance for a while, but, in the long run, it will pass these families on the success road.

MOVIES

"ASK DAD"

Sparkling lines and clever dialogue feature the little playlet, "Ask Dad," a Cornet Talking Comedy, starring Edward Everett Horton now on the program at the State theater.

The picture is made from a stage sketch by the same name, written by Joseph A. Jackson, and is one in which Horton has appeared on the stage and before several professional artists' clubs in Hollywood. It is a compact and amusing skit, with the principal parts portrayed by three players, Winston Miller and Ruth Renick appearing in support of Mr. Horton.

The action of the playlet is laid in one set, that of an office, and tells the story of a college boy in love with his father's private secretary. Father is also in love with the girl but does not realize it until son tells him of his own love for his employe. Then father, played by Horton, loses no time in popping the question.

"MY LADY'S PAST"

Two very human people enact a delightful human bit of drama in their ordinarily uneventful lives, and the result is "My Lady's Past," a production that is at the Royal.

"ETERNAL LOVE"

Faultlessly acted and directed, at times rising to proportions of epical grandeur in its sweep of story against heroic backgrounds, "Eternal Love," opened at the State theater last night.

"Eternal Love" is John Barrymore's latest—and his best vehicle, a United Artists picture directed by Ernst Lubitsch.

Camilla Horn, Victor Varconi, Mona Rico, a newcomer, Homart Bosworth, Bodil Rosing and Evelyn Selbie share supporting honors. It is a story of spiritual love and mad passions, of deep hatreds and gay abandon, of tense moments and breath-taking climaxes.

Four Track Route From Toledo To Detroit Said To Be Planned By Eastern Railroad

Toledo, O., July 23.—An unconfirmed report was making the rounds in railroad circles here today to the effect that the Pennsylvania railroad may use the recently purchased Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, for its Toledo-Detroit division.

The plan calls for a four-track system between Toledo and Detroit, according to the report. Tests were made on the property last week.

The Ann Arbor and Pere Marquette is under lease at present to the Pennsylvania for its Toledo-Detroit division.

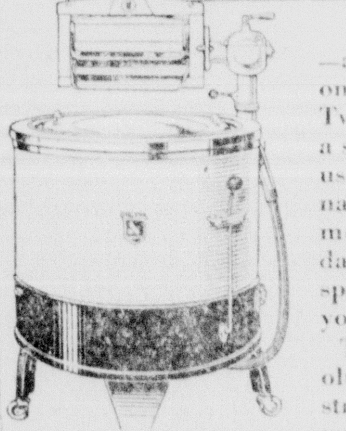
"I must have a fast thorough washer for my average family wash"
"I must have a slow gentle washer for my dainty silks, linens and woolens"



2 WASHERS IN 1

—and now you can have both in one washer! The new Graybar Two-Speed Clothes Washer has a slow speed in addition to the usual fast speed found in ordinary washers. The slow speed means gentleness for your dainty silks, linens, etc! The fast speed means thoroughness for your heavier, every-day things!

The announcement of this revolutionary feature must have struck a responsive note in the women of this town. They are flocking to see it! And seeing it, are enthusiastic!

Have you seen it yet?

Note: Another new feature worthy of your particular attention is the self-emptying tank of fine white porcelain enamel. This material—the easiest of all materials to clean—is successfully used in the Graybar Two-Speed Clothes Washer because of a metal shell and rubber bumpers which protect it from blows and jars.
